NOT TRUSTING TOO MUCH TO LUCK

HIS CONSCIENCE HURTS; GIVES UP; ADMITS MURDER

A man approached Policeman Coulter of the West Park police force in Douglas park early this morning and said:

"I am tired of dodging the law. I want to be arrested and end my worry. I killed a woman in 1921 and I am almost insane. I want to confess and end my life."

Policeman Coulter took the man into custody. At the police station he gave his name as Joseph Rablhaus of 4841 West 23d street. He declared that 4841 years ago he had choked a woman to death in a fit of jealousy in her home at fifth street and Saginaw avenue, and had been fleeing from town to town ever since. He said the woman's name was Anna, but he could not recall her surname. He told the police of numerous robberies he committed in various cities.

1926, Big Year for U. S., Says C. E. Mitchell

(Picture on back page.) If 1926 proves to be a greater year than 1925 so far as business in the United States generally is concerned, the result will be a national headache.

This opinion was expressed yesterday by Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank of New York, upon his arrival in Chicago on his way to the Pacific coast. Mr. Mitchell stated that business conditions are excellent and the outlook is that this year will finish equally as well as 1925.

Any signs of deflation which might crop out at this time are to be taken as an indication that the national pulse is just where it ought to be, according to the banker.

Peril in Too Much Prosperity. "It would be dangerous if this year turns out to be any more prosperous than 1925," he said. "It would mean inflation, the forerunner of deflation, which means a headache. Deflation is now would be an encouragement that we will continue to maintain our equilibrium, and equilibrium is a healthy thing for the country economically."

Europe is going through five stages to normalcy, Mr. Mitchell said. The first is government control of the people; the second, adjustments of debts to know what to incorporate in the budget; the third, balancing of the budget; the fourth, stabilization of the currency; and the fifth, reorganization of industry to balance the new conditions.

Germany in the Fifth Stage. "Germany," he said, "has gone through the first four stages and is in the fifth stage now. Italy has gone far ahead with the program, and England is practically in the fifth stage. Europe is receiving much help from the United States. American corporations are building plants abroad and American capitalists are buying stock in European banks."

Mr. Mitchell added that there is nothing fundamentally disturbing about European politics at this time and that he believes the recent outbreaks of Mussolini, Italian premier, are chiefly meant for home consumption.

Worked Up from Clerkship. Mr. Mitchell became president of the National City Bank of New York in 1921. He is also chairman of the board of the International Banking corporation, and a director in a number of companies, including the Corporation

WITH TRIANGLE PRESENT, WOMAN TAKES POISON

Determined to end the havoc wrought in her life by the eternal triangle, Mrs. Winifred Weisenborn, 25 years old, 144 Wilson avenue, last night swallowed poison in the presence of her divorced husband and another man.

Early in the evening she summoned Elmer Weisenborn, the ex-husband, saying that she wished to talk things over. When William F. Kroll, 6211 North Francisco avenue, a wealthy contractor, came to her apartment, he is said by the police to have been the cause of the separation. Discussion of their relations was climaxed when Mrs. Weisenborn locked herself in a room and swallowed the poison. A 12 year old daughter witnessed her act.

At the Ravenswood hospital it was said she may die. Weisenborn and Kroll were held by the Town Hall police for questioning.

35 BODIES ARE RECOVERED IN UTAH DISASTER

Fires Add to Horror of Avalanche.

BULLETIN.

Bingham, Utah, Feb. 17.—[AP.]—James McDonald and his wife, Eva, owners of the boarding house in which the greatest toll of life was taken, were rescued late tonight. The McDonalds were pinned in the debris some distance apart, but McDonald had dug his way to the place where his wife was held by a timber across her left arm.

Thirty-five bodies, eighteen of them identified, had been recovered tonight by rescue workers digging in the debris of the score of buildings destroyed.

Twenty-nine persons were listed by the Utah Delaware Mining company as missing. The village was the dwelling place of the workers in the Highland Boy mine, belonging to that company, and the town was situated on company property.

Toll May Reach 75. The number of missing may be increased, Frank A. Wardlaw, superintendent of the mine, said. It was feared the toll may reach 75.

Wardlaw and physicians said they had abandoned all hope of recovering any one alive from the ruins, but the search of the debris went on tonight with a dozen electric searchlights playing on the scene.

Ten persons were in the Bingham hospital and an emergency hospital in the Highland Boy mine office.

Fires added to the horror of the catastrophe, flames starting in the crushed building a few minutes after the avalanche struck. The fires still smoldered tonight and smoke and fog overhung the scene.

Many of the bodies recovered were frightfully burned. Others were scarcely scratched and Dr. F. E. C. Straup, the county physician and also mayor of Bingham, said that in the latter cases death was due to asphyxiation.

Fills Narrow Canyon. As the mass of snow, accumulated from the heaviest snowstorm of the winter, fell down the mountain, it piled above the gulch in which are located the Utah-Delaware and Utah-Alex mines. It swept trees and rocks away and it filled the narrow canyon, which is only several hundred feet long.

The snowslide swept two miles down the gulch before it overwhelmed the little camp at the narrow base.

Men, women, and children were caught without warning. The avalanche struck the McDonald boarding house and a smaller one nearby church by a Mrs. Timby. A small child and about a dozen miners' cabins, lining both sides of the gulch, were buried or swept away. The boarding house and cabins, heated with stoves, caught fire as they were crushed.

Men Caught in Sleep. As each building was swept from its foundation, the avalanche seemed to gather momentum, according to Ed Larson, a miner, who was in the McDonald boarding house. Larson shouted warning to the sleeping miners who a short time before had gone off shift, three one man out of a window and himself followed. Both men escaped.

The three-story boarding house was the last building to be demolished and the avalanche came to a stop at the back door of the office building of the Highland Boy mine.

It was in the boarding house that the greatest loss of life occurred. More than half a hundred miners were asleep in the building.

Survivor Tells Experiences. J. H. Rines escaped from the McDonald boarding house, but his wife, his sister, and brother were asphyxiated. "There was no warning other than a clump and a trembling of the building," he said. "I was buried beneath bedding, snow, and the walls and ceiling of my room. Somehow or other I managed to drag myself from the suffocating snow into the light and air and I was pulled from the wreckage."

Luther McCandless was taken from the wreckage of the boarding house and placed in a private cell in the Central hospital.

When the train arrived at Randolph street Alfred Hansen, a private detective, escorted him to a private cell in the Central hospital.

Girl of West Wins Acclaim in Opera Debut

(Picture on back page.) New York, Feb. 17.—[Special.]—With a voice of exquisite beauty and ease and flawless intonation, Miss Marion Talley, 19 year old daughter of a Kansas City, Mo., railroad telegrapher, scored a tremendous success tonight in the role of Gilda in Verdi's famous opera, "Rigoletto," at the Metropolitan Opera house.

The youngest American girl ever to face the far famed diamond horseshoe of the Metropolitan astonished a crowd that filled every seat and crammed the available standing room of the house by her calmness in her debut as a principal and by the remarkable qualities of her singing that moved more critics than one to liken the plump, middle western girl to Melba in her early days in opera.

Smart Set Applauds. Blase New York opera goers were kindly disposed, but they demanded to be shown—and chubby little Miss Talley showed them. Smartest of smart folk in New York's high society mingled with her no less nobby townspeople and applauded her bow to the upper realm of song.

Miss Talley took eight curtain calls at the end of the second act, midway in which she made her first appeal to the audience, and added eleven calls to her individual honors at the end of the third act.

First Scores in "Caro Nome." It was in the lovely "Caro Nome" that she first demonstrated the full charm of her voice. She poured herself with fervent intensity and unadorned purity into the number, taking the high notes with perfect ease and total quality and completely demonstrating her mastery as a singer.

Her mother remained in the wings throughout the performance, but Marion's father, Charles M. Talley, and her sister, Florence, occupied the parquet seats amid the brilliant scene of the Metropolitan at its best, the air heavy with perfume and flashing with jewels.

Thousands Turned Away. Thousands were turned away from the opera house tonight. The house had been sold out for weeks and speculators late today were asking as high as $75 for a single seat. Indeed, right of them were arrested and fined, the demand for tickets being the liveliest for any event here in years. House attendants and veteran traffic policemen said no operative event since the "Caruso" nights "had occasioned such a jam in the vicinity of the Metropolitan."

Cooked Her Own Breakfast. Miss Talley is a typical unaffected girl from the interior. She arose early today and prepared her own simple breakfast, enjoyed a morning of quiet in the modest apartment she shares here now with her mother, and went for a walk in Central park in the afternoon. She was much more calm than her father, who nodded about until Mother Talley ordered: "For goodness sake, Charley, put on your rubbers and go take a walk in the park."

The most interested man in the opera house was Miss Talley's father, but he was not alone in his interest. He had no prima donna airs about him, but there was a professional pride plainly shown in one incident. As a telegrapher he had worked nights and Sundays, all days in the week and all weeks in the years since soon after Marion was born to give her "her chance." That chance had come at last with generous help. But Mr. Talley tonight left his seat in the theater to take up a telegraph instrument on a line run direct into the opera house and sent this message to Kansas City:

"The things that the Talley family have been dreaming of for fifteen years have come true. Our little girl is singing to the world as we always thought she could some time do and would do. CHARLES M. TALLEY."

Giulio Gatti-Casazza, the Metropolitan Italian impresario, said he was proud to have brought out a young American singer of Miss Talley's early promise.

DAVIS DECISION SENDS HER BACK; SHE WILL APPEAL

Secretary Says Law Gave No Choice.

(Picture on back page.) Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—[Special.]—Countess Cathcart is excluded from the United States by order of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis. In a 400 word decision, announced late this afternoon, the department of labor affirmed the excluding decision reached by the Ellis island board of inquiry last week.

The countess, a rule that the countess must be excluded because she admitted having eloped with the Earl of Craven before she was divorced. By its decision, the department of labor, in effect, rules that adultery is a crime constituting moral turpitude and is sufficient grounds for excluding an alien.

While the decision was being announced in the office of Assistant Secretary Robt. Carl White, Secretary Davis rushed through the cordon of reporters surrounding his office and declining to be interviewed, left for Florida.

Will Appeal to Courts. Attorneys for the countess when they appeared before the board Monday announced that if they failed to get a reversal of the exclusion

TRACE SICILIAN KILLERS IN FIGHT FOR DEPORTATION

Orazio's Murder Reveals Terrorists' Names.

Information—with names—came yesterday to police officers engaged in the double duty of investigating the recent murder of Orazio Tropea and seeking the identities of the hundreds of alien gunmen subject to deportation.

The police were enabled last night to name, to their own satisfaction, the three murderers of Henry Spingola, but they have not enough evidence to present to a jury, they said.

How Tony Genna was murdered was also told them—with names.

There also was an arrest in the Tropea murder. The prisoner is believed to be the one who lured Orazio to Taylor and Halsted streets, where the shotgun assassins awaited him Monday night.

U. S. to Push Deportation.
From the government end of the deportation drive came the announcement that Howard D. Eby, chief of the United States immigration bureau here, had received a message from Washington stating that he would be given every assistance, men and money, necessary to "make Chicago safe for the jury system."

In the narration of the details of several of the gang murders the name "Cavallero" appears. The man known as Cavallero, though that is not his real name, was a school teacher in Italy, a man of education. He was imported to this country by the Genna brothers, it is alleged, to oversee the work of a crew of murderers imported with him. This man is now boss of fifty or more hangers-on in Chicago Heights, the police were told.

Three in Spingola Plot.
Others of a crime less important in the world of crime named to the police are:

Philip Abbate, now wanted as a fugitive from deportation proceedings and who recently had a narrow escape from being murdered.

A man named Biagio, of red complexion and with a bullet mark in his back known as a "dope peddler" and "blackmailer," two years in America. His automobile owned by John Scallan, now on trial for the murder of a policeman.

Nick Pettino, alias Don Peppino, right name said to be Giuseppe Armanza, bootlegger and blackmailer.

These are the three men who, according to police information, were in the plot to kill Spingola.

Cavallero Staged Revolt.
Here's the story told the police concerning these men:

The man known as Cavallero for a time did what the Gennas expected of him—used his brains and his education to further their designs of being the ruling power among Chicago Sicilians and the monopolists of the local alcohol market. After a time he rebelled.

He was being paid $50 a week and he soon came to consider that a pitance, considering the profits of others in the business of making booze and killing competitors. He demanded more and did not get it, so he joined with the forces of Sammo, then a budding rival of the Gennas.

Time gave Cavallero his opportunity. Three of the Genna brothers were killed; the others fled the city. That gave Sammo a clear field for a time, but he, too, felt the displeasure of owning Sicilians who wished to be respected themselves, and Sammo was shot.

Clew in Tony's Dying Words.
When Tony Genna was dying the police heard him whisper to his brother-in-law, the name of Cavallero, which until then they had never heard. Yesterday they were told what had been said between the brothers.

Cavallero had telephoned Tony Genna asking him to come to Grand avenue and Curtis street, Tony's two

FOUNDERS AT WOMAN'S CLUB GOLDEN JUBILEE

Rival Loves Weep for Orazio but His Real Widow Is Sought

Two common-law wives, one a mature woman with a nine year old son; the other a twenty one year old girl, yesterday lay tearful claim to the real affections of the slain Orazio Tropea, their mutual, if not altogether legal husband.

Helen Brown, who calls herself Mrs. Tropea, arrived yesterday from her home, 582 North Division street, Buffalo, and went immediately to Michael Laruski's undertaking establishment, 761 Taylor street, to try to get permission to take Orazio's body back to Buffalo.

A few hours later, Miss Beatrice Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gould, 222 Cherry street, South Haven, Michigan, was discovered by Captain John Stige at the home of her brother, 2054 Augusta street, and she told her story to him.

Helen dismissed the story of Beatrice's love affair with a shrug of her shoulders. Beatrice found comfort in saying that Helen had not been loved by Tropea. Both praised the man with whom they had lived.

brothers had been killed in the last few months and Tony wouldn't have ventured to that corner for any one of lesser importance than Cavallero.

When he reached there Orazio Tropea killed him, it is said. Orazio was then in the same position as Cavallero, a renegade from the ranks of the Gennas, who had brought him here.

That act established both Cavallero and Tropea as men with a future, having to reckon only with Sammo and with the feared "Quarto" behind them.

Abbate, Biagio and Pettino were of the Orazio faction. Abbate was arrested and held for deportation. Henry Spingola put up $2,000 cash for his bail. Abbate forfeited this bond. Henry Spingola sought to force Abbate to repay him the $2,000, it is said.

Lombardo's Views Sought.
Among those whose views were sought yesterday on the many Sicilian killings was Antonio Lombardo, wholesale grocer, and now reported to be something of a successor of the late Mike Merlo, the only Sicilian leader of his time who kept his people from murdering each other. Lombardo's name and three telephone numbers appeared in a book found on Orazio.

Lombardo was in the office of the United Sicilians when interviewed. He denied being Merlo's successor and said that he was not an officer of the United Sicilians.

"I'd give my hand to stop those

HAVE a century has yellowed the pages of the original record book from which was read yesterday the minutes of the first meeting of the Chicago Woman's club, as the opening feature of the golden anniversary celebration at the club rooms in the Fine Arts building. More than 200 members were present.

COOLIDGE KEPT IDLE FOR A TIME BY HEAVY COLD

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Suffering from a heavy cold, President Coolidge canceled a majority of his engagements today and retired to the executive mansion to rest, but later in the day returned to his office to dispose of accumulating routine business.

The President's indisposition appeared to have yielded to treatment, and assurance was given at the White House that there was no cause for alarm over his condition.

Just before dark he took a stroll half way around the White House grounds, wearing the top coat which he often has discarded on previous walks when the weather was much more chilly.

UP TO DATE NAVY AIR PLAN GIVEN COMMITTEE O. K.

235 New Planes in 1927;
Two Rigid Airships.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—A five year naval aircraft building program, which would provide the navy with 1,000 new planes at a cost of $25,000,000, was recommended today by the house committee on naval affairs.

The committee plan is the most important naval bill introduced at this time in view of the President's intention to observe economy in expenditures.

Rear Admiral Moffett proposed a plan involving the expenditure of $25,000,000 in five years.

Administration leaders are confident the committee's bill will be passed at this session, but even if it should be passed promptly it will take definite action by the President to obtain the full initial appropriation required without another year of delay.

Details of Aerial Plans.

The committee proposes the construction of 235 airplanes at a cost of $12,285,000 in the fiscal year 1927 in addition to 78 planes at a cost of $2,300,000 under other legislation. In addition the committee proposes the construction of two rigid airships costing $3,000,000 to be begun prior to July 1, 1927, and an experimental metal clad airship costing $200,000.

The pending naval appropriation bill contemplates the expenditure of not more than $9,000,000 on new aircraft in the fiscal year, 1927. Under the program recommended today the requirement for 1927 would be between $12,000,000 and $20,000,000. Representative French (Rep., Idaho), in charge of naval appropriations, said tonight that the additional amount of from $3,000,000 to $11,000,000 would not be appropriated for 1927 unless the budget bureau should recommend it. This puts the realization of the naval aircraft construction program up to the executive.

Army Program Lags.

The navy aircraft building program is in accord with the recommendations of the Morrow aircraft board and the Lampert committee which investigated military aviation. While the navy is putting a start in this direction the army is without a program up to date. Secretary of War Davis said recently that the matter of a period program of construction is still under consideration.

In addition to the expenditure of $12,285,000 in 1927 the house committee proposes the construction of 818 naval planes in 1928 at a cost of $16,324,750; 318 planes in 1929 at $17,583,500; 357 planes in 1930 at $17,943,250; and 378

WORLD FLIGHT HERO TO RACE WITH RUSSIA FOR ARCTIC AIR BASE

New York, Feb. 17.—(Special.)—A race with the air squadrons of Bolshevik Russia to claim land which might be used as a military flying base north of Alaska or Siberia probably will be the result of the polar flying expedition which he will command, Lieut. Leigh Wade, round-the-world army flier, told the Associated Press today.

Lieut. Wade said he believed the Russians feared that the United States might claim Wrangel Island, which lies north of Siberia opposite Point Barrow, Alaska. Possession of this by the United States, he explained, would make possible an intermediate flying base on the route to one who might establish further north, provided land is found.

Lieut. Wade has announced his intention of resigning from the army to lead the expedition. His first assistant will be Lieut. E. H. Ogden, whose resignation was announced in Washington yesterday. The expedition is backed by a number of American universities.

planes in 1931 at $20,046,250, a total in five years of $85,975,750.

The action of the committee is hailed by the supporters of Bill Mitchell as justification of his criticism that the national defense is lacking in an adequate number of serviceable up-to-date planes.

Makes U. S. Second to None.

Representative Butler (Rep., Pa.), chairman of the naval affairs committee, asserted that the program proposed would "give the American navy an aerial arm second to none."

"This bill," he said, "will increase the useful airplanes to 1,000 in 1931, and will maintain this number thereafter. The bill also provides that in considering the 1,000 airplanes, only those will be considered which are useful, in all respects safe to fly, and exclusive of experimental or obsolete aircraft. These 1,000 airplanes are also exclusive of airplanes for the naval reserve force."

INDIANA MINES QUIET AS INQUIRY INTO RIOTS BEGINS

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—With all mines in Warrick and Vanderburgh counties heavily guarded against a recurrence of the riots of yesterday, when one nonunion miner was badly stabbed and scores of others beaten, quiet prevails in the coal fields tonight.

The army of union sympathizers which swept through Warrick county yesterday, closing nonunion mines, apparently has been successfully dispersed by the authorities.

Thorough investigation of yesterday's activities was started today by W. W. Martin, Warrick county prosecutor.

LICENSE DOCTORS YEARLY TO WEED OUT QUACK, PLAN

State Medical Boards Are Unanimous for Law.

Annual registration of physicians, as a means of driving out quack doctors, was unanimously endorsed yesterday by the Federation of State Medical Boards of the United States, meeting at the Congress hotel.

Such a procedure for ending the intolerable situation in Illinois, particularly in Chicago, where the quacks prey openly upon thousands of victims, has been advocated by many physicians, one of them being Dr. Gilbert Fitzpatrick, a member of the Illinois state board of medical examiners.

With the endorsement of the national medical group, it is regarded as certain that the next Illinois legislature will be asked to pass an annual licensing law.

Four States Now Have Law.

Pennsylvania, Iowa, Delaware and California have adopted the annual licensing plan, and representatives from those states spoke in glowing phrases of the improvement to be achieved.

Dr. Don Griswold of Des Moines, Iowa, commissioner of health told astonishing revelations resulted from the law in his state. "Others who had been practicing for twenty years and even longer had never been licensed. We were able to drive out many quacks who had no medical education whatever."

The law also gave the American Medical association a correct list of Iowa physicians. In the association's directory we found many errors, and listed there as physicians we came across the names of one junk dealer and two nurses.

Immediate Action Urged.

The plan was seized upon enthusiastically by many Chicago physicians as a way out of the mire of quackery into which the city has fallen. But it was also declared that there now is ample legal machinery at hand to punish and suppress quacks, if the state officials can be shaken from inactivity. It was declared, The Illinois state board of medical examiners will meet

SENATE G. O. P. PLANS TO PUT THE BRAKES ON INVESTIGATIONS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—A move to put the brakes on senate investigation was launched today at a conference of Senate Republicans. To discourage prompt adoption of resolutions of inquiry at the request of one senator, the conference went on record in favor of referring such measures to the standing committee which has charge of the subject matter of a proposed investigation.

This committee would conduct a preliminary survey and if favorable report were made the measure then would go to the committee on audit and control for approval.

SCHOOLS CLOSED, MEXICAN PUPILS LIVE IN STREETS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Mexico City, Feb. 17.—This city is wondering today what it will do with the thousands of Mexican children who have been closed because of their religious instruction. Several thousand children from boarding schools suddenly are shut out of school. About 1,000 or more homeless children, who were cared for by the church schools, are without homes and are living in the streets. Half the children of the better class families will be kept from school if all church schools are closed.

Even with the church schools running, fully 40 per cent of the children are without schools because of the lack of sufficient facilities.

Many other schools, Protestant, Methodist, Episcopalian, Baptist, Adventist, and Presbyterian, are fearful for while no intimation has been made that the Protestants will be molested, the law is plainly that all schools must be nonreligious and mission schools here give religious instruction.

Asks Report on Yankees.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—The house was asked today by Representative Boylan (Dem., N. Y.) to obtain from the state department information on the expulsion of American citizens from Mexico on account of their "religious beliefs."

FLYER FINISHES 8,000 MILE HOP O'ER WILD AFRICA

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Feb. 17.—A trans-African aviation feat was accomplished by the arrival of the British aviator, Alan Cobham, in Cape Town today, completing an 8,000 mile journey from London. He began it on Nov. 16, passing over the deserts of Egypt, the swamps and forests of central Africa, and the great karoo of South Africa.

He is the first aviator to complete this journey with one machine, over the most exacting aerial route in the world, flying over very high country—in most cases between 4,000 and 5,000 feet above sea level.

After entering the Union of South Africa Mr. Cobham had some of the narrowest escapes of his career. Over Victoria Falls, his machine was enveloped in spray and his engine stopped. At Bulawayo his machine twice refused to rise.

Mr. Cobham arrived in Cape Town at 8 o'clock this evening.

Police found a bottle of formaldehyde in Murphy's room and believe he may have swallowed some of the contents of the bottle by mistake.

BROKER HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER IN AUTO DEATH

Two Motorists Jailed; Two Others Face Trials.

Severe treatment was meted out to reckless automobile drivers in the courts yesterday. Three motorists were held to the grand jury on manslaughter charges and two others were given jail sentences.

No deaths due to motor accidents were reported, the year's toll remaining 162.

Despite his exoneration by a coroner's jury, Leon E. Zitomer, 4455 Winthrop avenue, La Salle street broker, was held to the grand jury on a manslaughter charge by Judge George F. Holmes. Witnesses testified that Zitomer drove away after his car had struck a youth and hurled him into the path of another car.

Identification Awaiting.

Solomon Diamond, 2216 North Central Park avenue, was arraigned before Judge Phillip J. Finnegan charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of an unidentified man who was killed at Milwaukee avenue and Robey street. His case was continued until the body is identified.

Judge Finnegan, who announced a policy of jailing all reckless drivers, imposed two jail sentences and three fines upon Leo Hills, charged with reckless driving, driving while intoxicated, and disorderly conduct. Hills was ordered to serve forty days in the Bridewell and to pay a total of $225 in fines.

Another motorist arraigned before Judge Finnegan was Bernard Rodemich, 34 years old, 5024 West Huron street, whose automobile struck a pedestrian, cutting off his leg. Rodemich was sentenced to serve twenty days in the Bridewell and pay a $100 fine.

Held for Manslaughter.

Joseph Gall, 5152 Elvile avenue, West Chicago, Ind., was held on a manslaughter charge by a coroner's jury. Gall's automobile ran over a man at Roosevelt road and Independence boulevard a week ago.

Four generations were injured when an automobile overturned at South Park avenue and 92d street last night. They were Mrs. Amy L. Hendry, 86 years old, great-grandmother; Mrs. Edward C. Moll, grandmother; Mrs. Amy D. French, mother; and Amy Dorothy, 13 years old, the granddaughter. The automobile was driven by Mrs. French, who lives at 555 East 50th place.

Plans for inspection of automobile trucks will be introduced before the city council at its next meeting by Ald. Jacob M. Arvey (24th), who has just returned from Detroit, where he inspected a system used in that city.

Two plans, one voluntary and one compulsory, are being considered by Ald. Arvey.

In Detroit the police four times a year set aside two or three streets for tests. Owners of automobiles

BANISH FOUR IN TIJUANA CRIME TO PENAL ISLAND

United States Closes
Border at 6 P. M.

The Juana, Mexico, Feb. 17.—(Special.)—Expatriation for the deaths of the four members of the American Peet family will send four Mexicans to the penal island of Teo Marías. They are Zenaido Llanos, deceased chief of police of Tijuana; Louis Amador, fugitive from American justice and proprietor of a Tijuana bar; Refugio Alvarez, bartender; and Francisco Gonzalez, Tijuana policeman.

The preliminary accusation against these men was murder, and their terms of banishment, if carried out, should range from six to fourteen years, it is said. Federal Judge Uribe and A. Martinez, territorial secretary of state for the northern district of Lower California, informed newspaper men today in slowly chosen English words that Llanos, Amador, Alvarez and Gonzalez are now held under "certified accommodations." They have the constitutional privilege of two weeks to submit a defense, and may demand a trial by nine men, of whom five can convict.

Celebrate Decision in Saloons.

When it became known that imprisonment instead of execution faced the prisoners, jubilant glasses of cognac were drained in all of Tijuana's fifty-two bars.

Three other prisoners, also accused of murder and other offenses in connection with the homicides of the four Peetos, were freed, but their behavior will be under observation of the Tijuana police on a certain period.

Close Border at 6 P. M.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—Orders closing the Mexican border at 6 o'clock in the evening instead of at 9 o'clock, as at present, the result of a flood of protests against conditions in Tijuana, were dispatched to the collector of customs at Los Angeles by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews tonight. The effect of the order will be to practically close the Mexican resort, because persons will be prevented from crossing into Tijuana or from Mexico into the United States after 6 o'clock at night.

LEGION MEN GET CARLSTROM'S AID TO JAIL LORENZ

Mandamus Suit May Upset
Freedom on Writ.

Attorney General Carlstrom told representatives of the American Legion yesterday that he will back their efforts to send Arthur Lorenz back to jail to serve out the remainder of his sentence.

Lorenz, former editor of the Illinois State-Zeitung, who wrote an editorial attacking the Legion, escaped from jail but one week of a six month sentence by a fluke of the law. Judge Edmund Eller issued a writ for Lorenz's release on Tuesday on the ground that he had been sentenced to a prison term and also had been fined $1, while the statute, though providing that either punishment may be inflicted, does not permit the imposition of both.

Judge Eller indicated in his ruling that he thought the case might be twisted further by mandamus proceedings to compel him to expunge his release order; and on that basis Ferre C. Watkins, senior vice commander, and Allen C. Gilbert of the judge advocate's department called on Attorney General Carlstrom, a loyal Legionnaire, and obtained his promise to help them.

Later in the day representatives of Lorenz, including an attorney, Herman W. Drucker, appeared at Carlstrom's office. It was understood they were told they could leave the documents they had brought with them, but their visit was not a long one.

It is the Legion's contention that a Circuit judge had no power to upset the Lorenz case after it was affirmed by the state Supreme court, and that Lorenz's counsel, after failing to effect their point about double punishment to the high tribunal, was enticed from raising it in the lower court.

GUINEA PIGS TESTED LIQUOR SO BUYERS WOULD BE PROTECTED

New York, Feb. 17.—(Special.)—Ten guinea pigs said to have been used to sample bootleg whiskey and alcohol to determine whether they were dangerous for human consumption were seized today by prohibition agents, who served a summons on Rudolph Gelb, proprietor of a grocery store on Second avenue, alleged owner of the animals. The raiders said they found no liquor in the store, but found eight five gallon cans of alcohol and whiskey on the second floor of an adjoining tenement.

LIBERALS O. K. LAND SCHEME OF LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The Liberal party through 1,200 delegates to the conference of the liberal associations of England and Wales, today gave general approval to Mr. Lloyd George's land scheme.

A resolution unanimously adopted said that the time has arrived when the land system of Great Britain should be reformed, according to the general principles laid down by Mr. Lloyd George's land committee. The Lloyd George land plan provides for a drastic policy for dealing with the land problem through government control, amounting to a monopoly of agricultural lands.

Changes in the new top traffic signals to aid the pedestrian were announced yesterday by John T. Miller, commissioner of gas and electricity. Small lenses placed on the sides of the lights will enable pedestrians to see the traffic changes from the sidewalks.

ENGLAND HANDS VAST COAL FIELD TO BIG COMBINE

(Chicago Tribune From New York.)
LONDON, Feb. 17.—About $10,000,000, it was learned today, will be spent immediately in the development of the Kentish coal fields by Pearson and Dorman Long, British industrialists. The principal interest is guaranteed for thirty years by the government. It is understood that this is only the first installment on a vast sum the firm intends to sink in the Kent coal fields.

The combine represents Lord Cowdray's famous firm, Pearson Sons, Ltd., public works contractors, and Dorman Long, a colliery and steel combine, which already owns the rich combine of Kent, the war time port bought from the government.

It is expected that this present population of Kent will be more than doubled. New towns and roads are being planned in order not to make the Garden of England an ugly district like the "Black Country."

SEEK TO K. O. GIN AT U. OF C. FROM TOMORROW

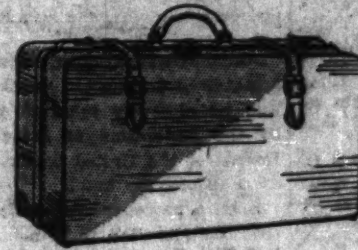

Banishment of gin from the Washington prom, the social event of the year at the University of Chicago, is being earnestly sought. It was said yesterday by university officials and prom leaders. The event will be held tomorrow night at the South Shore Country Club.

In letters sent to the undergraduate body, the students are asked to cooperate in the matter of prevention of drinking at the dance. Dean C. S. Boucher, the letter reads, is anxious that the nondrinking record made at the prom last year be upheld. Drastic action will be taken against those who become intoxicated, it was said.

and in New York.

Agents of the department of justice in raids in Chicago and New York yesterday arrested twenty-one colored men and women charged with being leaders in a ring of slavers which, under the guise of operating a religious cult, trafficked in country young colored girls who were transported to a farm colony in Abbeon, N. J., where they were outraged and held.

More than seventy cases of immoral practices in the cult were reported to the federal authorities, according to Assistant District Attorney James G. Coker, who has charge of the cases in Chicago. Assistant United States Attorneys Siegel and Catanelli of New York claim the membership of the cult numbers more than 800.

Raids on the south and west sides were led during the day by J. D. Rooney and Thomas Jefferson, agents of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice here, assisted by 11 South, detective sergeant assigned on government inquiry.

"Beware! You are outraging Jesus Christ!" shouted Elder W. Robertson, also known as Eli, as the agents seized him in a lavishly appointed house at 484 Vincennes avenue.

He is charged with being the head of the weird cult and the Vincennes avenue house is said to be his Chicago headquarters.

"Beware!" Robertson shouted, waving his long black kinky beard wildly. "I am the Messiah; I am the Christ!"

HOUSE CONGRATULATES LONGWORTH ON HIS 20TH ANNIVERSARY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—The twentieth anniversary of Speaker Longworth was the occasion for a demonstration today in the house, rising and applauding the speaker who bowed in acknowledgment. Representative Nelson of Connecticut, the Republican floor leader, asked that the good wishes also be transmitted to Mrs. Longworth, the former Alice Roosevelt, and Pauline, the Longworth baby.

his skull cap for a hat. With Robertson were seized also his wife and Mrs. Lottie Streety, Joseph Taylor, Edward Witte, Cornelius Johnson, Aaron Elmmons, and Edgar D. Roberts.

All the men wore the black skull caps and whippers. All also were known by aliases—Hebrew names; thus Taylor was alias Tembertfeld; Witte, David Lasarus; Johnson, Chino Stinson.

At the federal building they were arraigned before Commissioner James R. Glass, who will hear evidence presented by Assistant District Attorney Coker today.

Former Member to Testify.

A former member of the cult, said to have repented his traffic in the black "white" slaves, and to have married a beautiful young shop maid of the New Jersey farm, will tell of the immoralities at the "Black House of David," government men characterized it.

In addition to the Robertson house on Vincennes avenue, the ring maintained a so-called church at 155 West Lake street; a second establishment at 1828 West Fulton street; and a third at 2234 Warren avenue.

Only young black girls of lovely form and figure were acceptable to the leaders of the cult who rolled the whites of their eyes and looked them over before they were acceptable. The first indictment in New York contains counts involving 25 young girls; a second charges all the defendants with conspiracy to transport 14 girls, most of them only 15 years old, from Chicago and New York to the three Jersey farms.

HOUSE OBJECTS TO RETROACTIVE ESTATE TAX CUT

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—(Special.)—Retroactive reductions in estate tax rates of the senate revenue bill were reported today to be the chief stumbling block in the way of an agreement between senate and house conferees.

Senate conferees are holding out for the acceptance of these reductions, which would scale down rates on estates of persons dying between June, 1924, when the maximum estate tax was increased from 25 to 40 per cent.

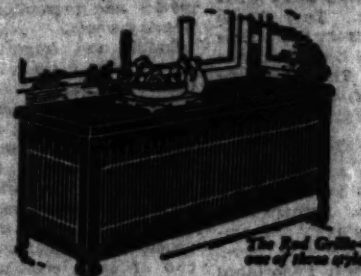

and the passage of the 1926 act. Representative Green (Iowa), chairman of the house ways and means committee, was leading the opposition to the acceptance of the retroactive reductions which, according to treasury estimates, would mean a loss in revenue of $20,000,000 for 1926 and a total of $25,000,000 during four or five years.

Among the largest estates which would benefit from the retroactive provision are those of James H. Duke, estimated at $75,000,000; Joseph W. Wirth, $60,000,000; William A. Clark, $41,000,000; A. D. Huntington, $25,000,000; Victor F. Lawson, $20,000,000; W. R. Coe, $15,000,000; Anne H. Benjamin, $12,000,000; Kate W. Winthrop, $12,000,000; Isabelle A. Gardner, $11,000,000, and Frederick F. Ayer, $10,000,000.

The internal revenue bureau issued regulations today relating to the filing of "information returns" by employers. The regulations are based on the increased exemptions of the new tax bill, regarding which there is no disagreement in conference. Instead of being required, as heretofore, to report payments to others of $1,000 or more during the taxable year, this year no reports are required of payments of income to single individuals of less than $1,500 and of payments to married individuals of less than $1,500.

U. S. MISSIONARY DIES HERO; FRIEND HELD BY CHINESE

Yankee Consul Sent to Rescue Clergyman.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PEKING, Feb. 17.—Further information regarding the killing of the Rev. Nils D. Nelson, American Lutheran missionary, at Hainyangchow, Honan province, indicates that he died as a result of his courage during the attack on the city by Gen. Wu Pei-fu's army. Dr. Nelson, a missionary bishop of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, whose death was reported in Tuesday's dispatch, was attempting to arrange for the evacuation of the starving missionary colony which numbered twenty-eight.

The second Kuomintang army (national people's army), commanded by Gen. Feng Yu-siang, arrested and carried off an American missionary, John Ely. He was charged with espionage. His whereabouts is not reported.

THE TRIBUNE is informed that Mr. Ely was striving to get in touch with Gen. Wu to arrange for the rescue of missionaries, they having been offered transportation to Hankow. It is not clear whether Mr. Ely accompanied the Rev. Mr. Nelson across the battlefield as he journeyed after Mr. Nelson was killed.

U. S. Consul Goes to Rescue.
Vice Consul Chapin has been detailed to leave Hankow on the military train in an endeavor to rescue the missionaries and to procure Mr. Ely's release, if he is still alive.

Three divisions of the first Kuomintang army have arrived at Yangtsun, near Tientsin, from Kalgan, indicating the formation of new lines at the scene of the December fighting should Gen. Li recapture Tientsin.

Curtailed and belated train service is being maintained between Peking and Tientsin. All other routes in north China are closed.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 17.—(AP)—John Ely, who was reported taken prisoner by the national people's army at Hainyangchow, was formerly a resident of Sioux Falls, S. D., and has been in China ten years.

France Urged to Win Back Favor of U. S. by Education

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 17.—The left wing of the evening newspaper, Paris Le Soir, tonight publishes a three column article entitled "How We Lost America." It outlines the various errors France has committed since the armistice which, it claims, have alienated the sympathy of the United States.

The left group's organ says the forthcoming pourparlers in Washington between Ambassador Bismarck and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon are certain to result in an accord on the funding of the French war debt, because much of the misunderstanding has been remedied recently.

"The first fault we committed was the drafting of the Versailles treaty, the Republicans who opposed Woodrow Wilson," the article says. "Without dabbling in the domestic politics of the Union, we could have obtained the support of certain influential leaders of the Republican party who afterward became irreconcilable because they misunderstood our part in the peace negotiations."

"Neglected to Educate U. S."
"The rejection of the treaty of Versailles at Washington did not teach us the necessity of educating the American public opinion and, on our part, to lead to a misunderstanding of the viewpoint of the United States. To facilitate the settling of the war debt, our propaganda service did practically nothing to counteract the remarkable work of our adversaries there."

"The scandal of waste and graft in the reconstruction of our devastated regions is cleverly exploited by our opponents. Well made illustrations, that in most cases the shacks were replaced by chateaux, with America paying the cost of everything indirectly, because France is not paying the United States."

"The Ruhr occupation supported those accusing France of militarism and strengthened the accusation that we were not entitled to vote our difficulties when maintaining a huge army of men, costing millions a day."

"Overlooked Entertaining Smoot"
"Everything was neglected to reveal in the United States the real situation, and over here when American statesmen, financiers, manufacturers, and bankers visited France we failed to show them the real country."

"In 1923 Senator Smoot, vice chairman of the debt funding commission, came and never even was received by the government, then in the hands of M. Poincaré. When a friend of Mr. Smoot informed Quai d'Orsay that the senator was here a minor official replied: 'We are glad to do anything for him if he desires.' Naturally, Mr. Smoot never asked any favors. Mr. Smoot visited the devastated regions, accompanied by an American officer, formerly married to a French woman and who became anti-French after domestic troubles. The officer described the prodigious reconstruction, waste, and graft in the devastated regions, and Mr. Smoot left France with an unfavorable opinion. AUSTRIA WRITES FINIS TO TYROL ROW WITH ITALY

BY LORIMER HAMMOND.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

VIENNA, Feb. 17.—Chancellor Ramek in parliament this afternoon delivered the first official Austrian reply to Premier Mussolini's Tyrol policies. His address was mild and conciliatory, and did not please the public in Vienna, where it is asserted that Premier Mussolini has successfully tricked the Germans and Austrians by drawing fire upon his own personal threats of an "invasion," thereby sidetracking the real issue, which is the Fascist treatment of the German minorities in Tyrol.

Chancellor Ramek began with a reference to Woodrow Wilson's policies, saying that the St. Germain treaty contradicted them when it ceded Tyrol to Italy.

"At that time the Italian government gave definite promises of liberal treatment to the German minorities, but the Fascist government of Italy has not kept the promises," he said.

"In no other place except Tyrol is the German minority subjected to such a process of assimilation by the dominant nation."

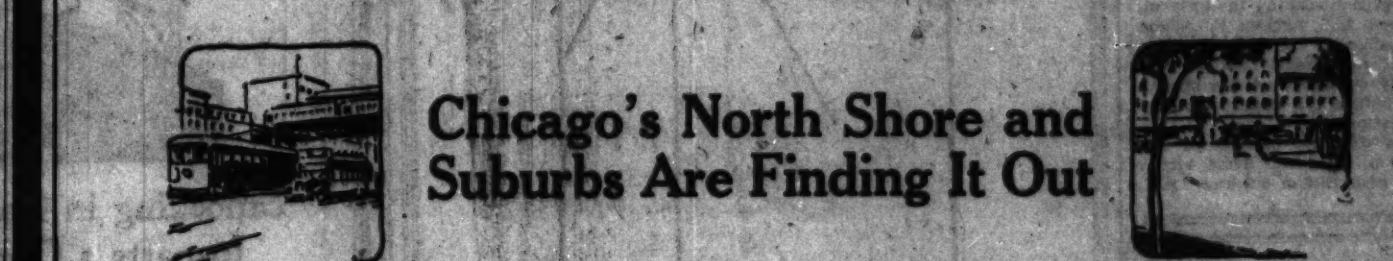

The Austrian chancellor said his government did not favor a boycott against Italian goods, and he also said he had sent his ambassador to Premier Mussolini in Rome on Feb. 16 to inquire into the meaning of the Duce's words that "we will carry the Italian tricolor beyond Brenner Pass."

Chancellor Ramek told parliament that Premier Mussolini said he did not mean to make a military threat, but wanted the Austrians to know he would not permit a union of Germany and Austria.

In view of this explanation, the chancellor said, Austria is ready to consider the matter closed.

DEMAND FOR TILE SHOWN BY UNION FEARS—HORAN

Alderman Asks Action on Building Ordinance.

One of the chief arguments of the opposition to the proposed ordinance permitting the more general use of hollow tile in Chicago buildings was met yesterday by Ald. A. J. Horan (Twenty-ninth), who is urging that the long delay of the ordinance be ended.

"Speakers before the committee," he said, "have challenged those in favor of the ordinance to bring some evidence that there is a real demand for the use of tile in some walls where brick is now used."

Claims Demand Is Shown.

"But that evidence has already been produced before the committee. One of the biggest points they have tried to make is that the labor union making and laying brick will suffer because the use of brick will be reduced 40 per cent."

"Doesn't that mean there is a real demand for the use of brick? It's the same thing as saying that builders and people who want to put up their own homes are just waiting for the chance to build more cheaply by using tile instead of the more expensive brick."

Hold Another Meeting Today.

The subcommittee of the council committee on buildings and zoning is to hold another session today and may hear from a number of architects and engineers who have said they wish to speak. This may be the last hearing, although the regular session of the building committee will not be held on Monday, which is Washington's birthday, and probably will not be held before Wednesday.

The Home Building Tile association, comprising manufacturers from all sections of the country, is meeting in annual convention at the Hotel La Salle and has informed the principle of the ordinance permitting the use of tile in load bearing walls from which they now are barred.

ROBBERY OF $500 RINGS.

On their way to the La Salle street depot last night to make reservations for a return to their home in Los Angeles, Benjamin W. Porter and his wife were held up and robbed of $50 and three rings worth $500, by an armed man in Plymouth court near Harrison street. The couple had been visiting a brother of Mr. Porter at 313 Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES FIGHT TODAY FOR INCREASE IN TAX

Seek Aldermanic O. K. on April Vote.

School board trustees and city aldermen are expected to tangle this morning in a fight to determine whether the proposed for a 10 per cent increase in school taxes shall appear on the ballot in the April primaries.

Col. Edward E. Elliott, president, and three other members of the board will lay their case before the school, fire, and civil service committee of the council. Sentiment of the committee, two weeks ago, was unanimously opposed to the measure, but a final vote was postponed until the trustees could be heard.

Petition Is Alternative.

If the board's request is disapproved by the council as a whole, the board's request, the proposed tax boost, said by school officials to be an urgent necessity, cannot go on the ballot except by petition. The latter method, Col. Elliott said yesterday, is out of the question.

"Our deficit is now $22,000,000 and we are within $4,000,000 of our borrowing limit," said Col. Elliott. "Unless we get more revenue by January 1, 1927, we must drastically curtail school activities."

The proposed increase would increase the school tax levy from $1.92 to $2.92 per hundred dollars assessed valuation. This will mean a 12 1/2 per cent increase in the general tax rate. It will furnish the school educational fund about $15,000,000 more each year.

Will Cut Debt, Boost Pay.

Figures to be presented by Col. Elliott today will show that the bulk of the increase will go to retire the board's $22,000,000 floating indebtedness. A part, however, approximately $1,750,000 in 1925, $3,000,000 in 1926, and larger amounts in succeeding years, will be used to increase teachers' salaries.

It is to the salary increase that the aldermen most strenuously object. It is unfair to recognize the validity of the teachers' pay raise, they argue, when increases for policemen, firemen, and other city employees repeatedly have been turned down.

It is rumored that a compromise increase of 50 cents instead of $1 will be suggested at the meeting this morning. In that event, Col. Elliott said there will be nothing more the school board can do.

SUTOR BREAKS GIRL'S WINDOW.

Hort Simpson, 27 years old, 4880 Sheridan road, a soda clerk, when refused admission Sunday night to call on a girl friend, vented his displeasure by throwing a bottle of soda water through her apartment window at 350 East 50th place. He was fined $5 yesterday for disorderly conduct.

SELL $5,000,000 BONDS TO SPEED STATE HIGHWAYS

Another $5,000,000 was made available for rushing work on the remaining 225 miles of roads in the original Illinois paved highway system yesterday with the sale of a block of the state's new $100,000,000 highway bond issue to a finance group headed by the Guaranty Trust company of New York.

Estimates a week ago showed $24.75 million of the original $45,000,000 bond issue roads still uncompleted. All this system must be finished and opened to traffic before the first mile of the new $100,000,000 bond issue roads may be built, according to the recent bond issue law. The highway department is authorized, however, to use the amount of money needed from the $100,000,000 issue to finish all roads of the $20,000,000 system.

In Cook county the road outlook is considerably brighter than over Illinois as a whole. President Anton J. Cermak of the county board declared yesterday that road building by the county in the last two years has been highly satisfactory. Among the new roads to be opened for traffic this spring he mentioned the following:

Kentworth avenue between Railroad avenue and Gross Point road is now improved and will be extended to connect with the Happy road. Thatcher avenue is completed and will be opened this spring from Forest Park to River Grove. South First avenue is completed and will be opened between Homewood and Flossmoor.

(Copyright, 1926, by The New York Times.)

MADRID, Feb. 17.—The Spanish government is completing the necessary international arrangements for the flight of three aeroplanes to the Philippines next April.

Then other men decided that more people should know it. So they paid $1,000,000 to secure the remedy.

Now the facts are told in thousands of newspapers and magazines. People everywhere are dealing with colds in this effective way.

This is to urge that you try HILL'S. Take it promptly. Every hour of delay means a deeper-seated cold.

Be sure you get HILL'S. The years have proved that no other help compares. A cold is a serious matter. Stop it at once, and its results in the best way you can find. SCHOOL ASSAULT CASE CONTINUED; NEW BAIL FIXED

Mrs. Anna Lloyd, accused of an assault on Mrs. Mary E. Fellows, principal of the Newberry school, was bailed out of jail last night after an unsatisfactory bond had caused her to be rearrested following her arraignment yesterday.

Because the two broken wrists of Mrs. Fellows prevented her from coming to court, Judge Philip Finnegan continued the case until March 4. At the same time he ordered Mrs. Lloyd held until she could secure a new $2,400 bond, which was furnished last night.

The original bond, furnished by Benjamin Goodman on Tuesday, was rejected upon the complaint of Leo V. Roemer, assistant attorney for the board of education. He argued that it was not properly secured.

Mrs. Lloyd admitted in the hearing yesterday that she pushed the principal against a radiator during an altercation over dental treatment for her son Arcellius, 19 years old, but said she could not understand how her wrists were broken.

Here You Have PRIVACY

ALTHOUGH examining and treating an average of 1,200 men and women daily at fees within the reach of all, the Public Health Institute at all times maintains an atmosphere of privacy and refinement.

The diagnosis, treatment and cure of "social" diseases is conducted with professional dignity, and a minimum of embarrassment, discomfort and loss of time to the patient.

Arriving for the first time at the Public Health Institute, the new patient is shown to an attractively furnished reception room entirely apart from the departments to which regular patients go for treatment. Within a few moments he is assigned to one of twenty private examining rooms, a number sufficient to make long waits practically unknown.

Thereafter, when he comes for treatment, the patient goes directly to one of six departmental waiting rooms, according to the nature of his ailment. Opening off them are private rooms in which treatments are administered. An abundance of treatment rooms and a large staff of physicians assure prompt attention at any time during the Institute's convenient hours of 10 A. M. to 8 P. M.

As an added measure of privacy, names are not used at the Public Health Institute. When first examined, the patient is given a number and thenceforth is known only by that number. Even the physician attending him is entirely unaware of his identity.

The Public Health Institute, as you doubtless know is a non-profit organization founded by public-spirited citizens to combat the devastation wrought by venereal diseases in Chicago.

That the Institute meets a vital need is evidenced by the fact that "social" diseases yearly take their toll of 300,000 lives—six times the American fatalities of the World War. Often acquired innocently, they invariably result in disability or death unless promptly and properly treated. Insanity, paralysis, blindness, still-born and defective children—these are only a few of the horrible results of neglected venereal infections.

Fortunately, "social" diseases can be cured. There is hope for those who will face the facts and seek reliable treatment at once. If you have been exposed to infection, or if you have been infected in the past and have reason to doubt your complete cure, you are urged to consult a reputable physician or to come to the Public Health Institute for examination and advice.

The Public Health Institute offers the services of its trained physicians to any one who has contracted or has been exposed to a venereal disease. Those who come here receive the attention of sympathetic physicians in an atmosphere of complete privacy. As the Institute is organized not for profit, the fees are small and are the same to one and all.

Bearing in mind that a venereal infection may be acquired innocently, it is extremely advisable to be examined occasionally if only as a preventive measure. The cost of such an examination is trivial compared to the satisfaction of knowing that you are free from disease, or, if infected, that you are in safe hands.

Women and Children

To assure them the greatest possible privacy, a special department for women and children, with women nurses assisting its physicians, is maintained at 72 East Randolph Street. This department is likewise equipped with individual treatment rooms, as well as a number of reception rooms. Here, as in the men's department, it is possible for hundreds of persons to come and go without seeing or being seen by the patient.

THE GUMPS—THE CHASM OF DEATH

THE HAND OF FATE GUIDED THE WANDERING FOOTSTEPS OF THE DRUNKEN GUEST, WHO DUMBED INTO THE WATER WHO WAS ABOUT TO SERVE THE POISONED SOUP TO UNCLE BILLY YESTERDAY AS THE TRAY LOADED WITH DISHES CRASHED TO THE FLOOR. BILLY DID NOT REALIZE HOW NARROWLY HE ESCAPED THE AGONIZING DEATH PLANNED FOR HIM BY THE UNHOLY THREE.

IF THAT MEDDLE-SOME DRUNK HAD NOT INTERFERED BILLY WOULD HAVE BEEN BLOTTED OUT OF EXISTENCE.

JUST WHEN SUCCESS WAS ASSURED—

THERE IS NO USE CRYING OVER SPILT SOUP—I'LL SEND BILLY ON A RIDE TO NIGHT FROM WHICH HE'LL NEVER RETURN—

TELEPHONE MESSAGE STATING THAT THE WIDOW ZANDER HAD MET WITH A SERIOUS ACCIDENT AND NEEDED HIS HELP CAUSED UNCLE BILLY TO RUSH MADLY TO HER SIDE—

ON THROUGH THE MORNY NIGHT— THE CAR CONTAINING UNCLE BILLY RACED A MILE A MINUTE WITH NO ONE TO WARN HIM THAT THE BRIDGE WAS BLOWN UP. EVERY SECOND FOUND THE ALL-PAVED CAR DRAWING NEARER THE OPEN CHASM AND SUDDEN DEATH IN THE CRUEL WATER BELOW—

HOFF HOPS HIGHER AGAIN, BREAKING HIS WORLD MARK

Then Races Lally to Tape in 600 Meter Run.

New York, Feb. 17.—(AP)—In a brilliant exhibition of his all-around prowess, Charley Hoff, of Norway, tonight placed second in Vincent Lally's 600 meter invitation run after breaking his own record for the event.

Hoff was beaten by only two yards as Lally finished with a great burst of speed after the European runner had set the early pace.

The time for the event, 1:24.4, was a record, the distance never having been run previously indoors. The distance is approximately 660 yards, the mark for which is 1:21.4.

Boys 15 Feet 4 Inches. Less than an hour before, he had raised his pole vault record to 15 feet 4 inches. When Roy Shagle of the United States defeated him in the final round, Hoff vaulted to his new record on the first attempt after the American had knocked off the bar at 13 feet 4 inches.

Hoff began at 11 feet, after which he was moved up successively to 11 feet 6 inches; 12 feet; 12 feet 6 inches; 13 feet; and then to a height never before reached in this country. The Norwegian cleared the bar by several inches in his final jump.

Hubbard Equals Best Record. De Hart Hubbard, former University of Michigan star, equaled the world indoor record of seven seconds for 44 yards in outsparring a field of five contestants in the second feature event. Hubbard was a step in front of Chet Brown of the Newark A. C. and a 145 yard advantage, was second, and S. McNeil, an unattached runner, third.

Reverencing long handicaps allotted to 11 other runners, Willie Ritola of the Finnish-American A. C., scratch starter, won the two mile race in 8:24. Al Silverstein of the Gloucester A. C. with a 145 yard advantage, was second, and S. McNeil, an unattached runner, third.

Britten's Hopes Rise for Army Game Rail Rate. Hope of obtaining half fare rates for visitors here the weekend of the Army-Navy game was expressed by Representative Fred A. Britten after a meeting yesterday with thirty-five railroad officials.

Britten conferred with the rail men for two hours at the Union station. They seemed favorably impressed with his arguments, he said, and agreed to give the reduced rate request careful consideration.

Suzanne and Her Papa Had Row, 'Tis Said

(Copyright 1926, by the New York Times.)
CANNES, Feb. 17.—(Special.)—Can Willa beat Lengien the next time? Instead of the Riviera experiencing a deadening tennis reaction from yesterday's historic encounter, the result of the match continues to absorb everyone's attention, especially Mlle. Lengien's explanation of her worry over the grueling battle.

This worry, it is now understood, was not so much due to the precarious condition of Father Lengien's health as his and Madame's last minute ban on the Cannes meeting on the ground that their daughter would lose.

Spent Night in Dispute. Most of the night prior to the match an arid, fearful dispute seems to have raged in the bosom of the family at Nice. It left Mlle. Lengien a wreck. Her father insisted that the contest be staged on the Riviera, in which he is so interested, and because she is unable to journey to Cannes to direct operations from the sidelines.

But Suzanne had for once some one on her side—a young American friend—and the couple stood on the principle that if Mlle. Lengien scratched at the last moment the world would brand her as a yellow.

According to rumors the dispute became so dramatically intense that Mlle. Lengien vowed she would never re-enter the family villa. The left with her father's assertion that she would lose. Mlle. Lengien was the first to relent, telephoning from Cannes after she had won and later being reconciled.

It appeared that the world's champion long has been accustomed to play under the almost hypnotic influence of her father, who taught her every stroke she knows, and his prediction she would lose was an influence throughout the match. This explains her statement:

"I was outside of the match, thinking of everything else." It explains also why she offers to play in the Nice singles which begin March 7 so that her father may be at the match and see his daughter win. Today Mlle. Lengien vowed, trying to dodge the squad of reporters seeking amplification of her former story of the match. Helen Willis left Cannes for the Basle tournament.

TALKS OF HELEN. NICE, France, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Suzanne Lengien spent most of the day in bed in her home at Nice, and when the correspondent called on her other great big sister, she was very tired.

Suzanne's cozy little room was furnished in Louis XV. style and glittering with silver and gold. She was in the world's tennis court. Madame Lengien herself wore a simple blue kimono, trimmed with Prusse lace.

Madame Lengien's face lit up when she saw the correspondent. "How is Miss Willis?" she asked. Informed that Miss Willis was so tired that she had to request a postponement of her match at Basle, she remarked sympathetically:

CORNER STONES IN NEW PRO GRID LOOP

BY JAMES CRUICKSHANK. Promoters large and small assembled at the Morrison hotel yesterday and organized the American League of Professional Football Clubs, with Mr. C. C. Fyle and Mr. Red Grange holding the whip.

After a long session of deliberation four clubs were admitted to the league: the Chicago Bears, the Cleveland Browns, the St. Louis Cardinals, and the Milwaukee Braves.

Perhaps no two franchises played more evenly matched than Gardner and Linn. Together they won the American doubles racquet championship at the Chicago Racquet club's fortnight ago and their play in yesterday's match was just as brilliant.

Linn Gets Early Lead. Linn started with a whirlwind pace that swept Gardner aside in the first two games. Gardner was a bit wild in his service and his general play, while Linn scored many points of low corner placements, gave that seemed almost impossible, and good service.

Linn won the first two games, the first by 3 points and the second by 1 point. The gallery, which had placed Gardner to win, almost ceased to breathe when Linn won the third game, regained control of his powerful drive, which gave him many aces, and forced his opponent into error. He won the game by 11 points.

Flash Is Close. Play in the fourth game started with great speed and soon became a pendulum contest with the advantage alternating. Linn got in three excellent low corner placements, but Gardner recovered and won, 11-10. That made three all.

Then came the stirring fifth and deciding game. Gardner was going at top speed and he soon gathered 6 points. Linn rallied and picked up 3. From 6-3 in Gardner's favor the game went to 14-14, 15-15, 16-16. Linn won the first two games, the first by 3 points and the second by 1 point.

MRS. M. JONES LOSES ON COAST. Del Monte, Cal., Feb. 17.—(AP)—Startling upsets figured in the second round of the play-off of the annual Pebble Beach Golf championship for women today, and as a result two of the outstanding contenders were eliminated while Miss Marion Hollins of New York, defending champion, won her chance for a fourth consecutive victory considerably increased.

Coming as a distinct surprise was the defeat of Mrs. Melvin Jones, Chicago, by Mrs. W. W. Campbell of Los Angeles, 3 and 1 and Mrs. H. G. Rutledge, Washington, by Mrs. Frank Sherry, San Francisco city champion, 5 and 3.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL. In the longest and hardest jam of the race, which started in the third lap and did not terminate until after midnight, nearly two hours later, the American team of Bobby Walthour and Reggie McNamara, went into the lead in the six day bicycle race at the Columbia.

At midnight Walthour and McNamara were two laps ahead of Spencer and Georgetti, and the French team of Wambet and Lequishay, Spencer and Georgetti, however, held second place by scoring 155 points in the sprint, against 11 for the French team.

The terrific riding of McNamara and Walthour excited even that of Wambet and Lequishay early Wednesday morning. The American riders put jam on top of jam and rode splendidly, nearly two hours later, the American team of Bobby Walthour and Reggie McNamara, went into the lead in the six day bicycle race at the Columbia.

He had plenty of reserve and his riding improved as the hours continued. Walthour also did some great riding and showed all the speed and staying qualities which made him just as popular a rider as his father, one of the best six day riders.

Spencer and Georgetti, who had held the lead since the race started last Sunday night, were unable to show the speed which has featured his riding on previous nights.

French Team Strong. Wambet and Lequishay were in the thickest of the jam at all times, to were the Belgians, Stockhoush and Gossens. In fact practically every team in the race tried to start a jam but McNamara and Walthour generally managed to tack on to the leaders. In this manner, they surprised the field on several occasions and were away to a good start before the others realized another jam was on.

The jamming was started in the third sprint by Schneider. Then McNamara took up the riding and lashed the end of the sixth hour when Walthour fell and the race was stopped. In this jam, Walthour and McNamara gained two laps and drew up on even terms with Spencer and Georgetti.

Then several premiums were offered for sprints and each team brought a jam. It was the most hectic night of riding since the race started and the jamming is certain to continue, as Spencer and Georgetti will make several efforts to regain the lead on ground. Despite unfavorable weather, another large crowd packed the Columbia.

Bob Gardner Beats Linn for Racquets Title

BY MORROW KRUM. Robert A. Gardner defeated Howard Linn, 3-2, in the final of the University club's championship racquet tournament yesterday in more than an hour of furious playing. Gardner won the club title 13-15, 15-14, 15-10, 15-11.

Perhaps no two racquet players were more evenly matched than Gardner and Linn. Together they won the American doubles racquet championship at the Chicago Racquet club's fortnight ago and their play in yesterday's match was just as brilliant.

Linn Gets Early Lead. Linn started with a whirlwind pace that swept Gardner aside in the first two games. Gardner was a bit wild in his service and his general play, while Linn scored many points of low corner placements, gave that seemed almost impossible, and good service.

Linn won the first two games, the first by 3 points and the second by 1 point. The gallery, which had placed Gardner to win, almost ceased to breathe when Linn won the third game, regained control of his powerful drive, which gave him many aces, and forced his opponent into error. He won the game by 11 points.

Flash Is Close. Play in the fourth game started with great speed and soon became a pendulum contest with the advantage alternating. Linn got in three excellent low corner placements, but Gardner recovered and won, 11-10. That made three all.

Then came the stirring fifth and deciding game. Gardner was going at top speed and he soon gathered 6 points. Linn rallied and picked up 3. From 6-3 in Gardner's favor the game went to 14-14, 15-15, 16-16. Linn won the first two games, the first by 3 points and the second by 1 point.

CUBS' BAILIOWICK
CROWDED WITH
CENTER FELDERS

Lefty O'Doul Most Promising Recruit.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)

Avalon, Catalina Island, Feb. 17.

(Special)—If any one in the Cubs' camp has an eye on the center field job he'll have to talk it over with Lefty O'Doul, a southpaw hurler who reformed and went to chasing the ball when he learned he was fairly capable with the bat.

O'Doul is only one of two men in the camp who hope to survive when the elimination process gets into its final stages.

He is not a favorite of the fans, but he has as much as a chance of being a batting average of .375 that he could be a member of the New York Yankees.

He didn't play center at Salt Lake, but he has a good throwing arm and speed, which are useful things in the middle outposts position.

Lefty didn't play center at Salt Lake, but he has a good throwing arm and speed, which are useful things in the middle outposts position.

He wants to try it in the big show, and if he works out so far he has been talking himself to that territory.

Failed as Yankee hurler.

O'Doul was in the minor circuits once before, as a member of the New York Yankees. He didn't have much luck as a hurler, so he went to Salt Lake.

He gave some inkling of his hitting strength, so a wise manager induced him to take up outfielding, and the effort was so successful that the Cubs last fall handed over a large job of money for his services.

Another fellow who has a serious eye on the middle garden is Hack Wilson, who is built close to the ground. Hack performed such duties for the Giants a couple years ago, but Wilson shunted him to the minors because his hitting fell off.

The player Manager McCarthy likes for one of the other dy chasing jobs is Big Joe Kelly, who smacked thirty homers at Toronto. There are a few others, however, who are going to make the fight for recognition something more than a pink tea.

Joseph Minton, for instance, built up an average of .386 while at Harrisburg, Pa., last season, and Howard Fitzgerald, who is back for the third time, batted the ball for a .340 count at Wichita Falls.

Manager McCarthy is such a hard worker that he doesn't even leave the back between the morning and afternoon workouts. He parks himself on a bench alongside Coach Mike Doohan and talks over things he observes with the athletes as they action.

Defect in Shannon's Fielding.

Shannon, who just now is getting all the attention at short, has a habit of playing ground balls on his side instead of getting squarely in front of the ball.

William Wrigley, who owns the Cubs, and a few other things, will be here Friday to watch his baseball hopefuls in their daily grind. The superintendent of the club has a surprise for the "kings" in the form of a new player, who will be here Friday to watch his baseball hopefuls in their daily grind.

The winners led all the way, having a 15 to 46 advantage at the half.

CHICAGO NORMAL BEATEN.

De Kalb Normal triumphed over Chicago Normal college basketball team yesterday. The winners led all the way, having a 15 to 46 advantage at the half.

MOON MULLINS—THE EARLY BIRD GETS THE WORM

In the WAKE of the NEWS

POTPOURRI.

WHAT might have developed into a personal feud between Mlle. Lenzen and Miss Wills appears to have simmered down somewhat with their first meeting. Unquestionably there was feeling—it was inevitable after the circumstances leading up to the match, but the published interviews have been discouraging as to any "cat's paw" all things considered.

Mlle. Lenzen showed in her best light in a signed story of the match furnished a newspaper syndicate. How much it was tempered for American consumption by a wise publicity director we cannot tell. While the French girl's writing reflected the ego of a champion and she maintained she took absolutely no chances and always had something in reserve, she was not unkindly in comment of Mlle. Wills and accepted the situation that this was the beginning of several years of personal rivalry on the courts.

Northwestern's basket five, which topped the Badgers Tuesday night, was an entirely different squad from that which represented the Purple at the start of the season. Then it was a good scoring aggregation with a sieve defense. Against Wisconsin, Purple guarding was a feature.

We have sold OUR match of mad in Florida; that is, Mr. Wake has. When she bought it we were sarcastic. When she expressed a desire to sell, we smiled with masculine superiority and ventured no one would be foolish enough to want it. Then she received four times its cost. Furthermore, she remembered when she urged that the Howard Avenue district had a real estate future and we couldn't see it.

Dear Harve, is there a law again about kid brothers? I want to be a kid brother and when we were sitting on a sofa I saw, 'Do ya love me?' Don de kid brother phoned up from his room. 'Sure she does. Didn't she see you with a model for kindness to gum anatomy?' Sincerely, W. H. H.

SCHAFFER-HOPPE TO PLAY 18.1 TILT HERE NEXT WEEK

Jake Schaffer, world's champion 18.1 billiard player, will try his cue in 18.1 billiards against Willie Hoppe, the title holder in that department of the game, in Chicago next week. Hoppe and Schaffer will play a 1,000 point match in six 250 point blocks, which will be played afternoons and evenings of Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in Mussey's amphitheater, 67 West Madison street.

The announcement of the match yesterday caused surprise in billiard circles. Young Schaffer does not often venture far from the 18.1 game. At present he is in training for his challenge match with Erich Hagenbacher, to be played in Philadelphia. Jake does not believe that the 18.1 match will hurt his 18.1 game, however, and it will give Hoppe some excellent practice for his title fight against Edward Horowitz, which is scheduled to be played in Orchestra Hall soon.

In addition to their 18.1 games, Schaffer and Hoppe will play 25 points of three cushion billiards each afternoon.

Michigan Tells Anglers Streams to Fish and How

BY BOB BECKER.

Trout fishermen who are planning to open the 1926 season on the Pere Marquette, Pine, or the north and south branches of the Au Sable rivers in lower Michigan or the Salmon Trout and middle branch of Ontonagon rivers in upper Michigan can leave their bait hooks at home this year as the conservation department of Michigan says no bait fishing on those streams.

It's fly fishing or nothing when you visit them, says the commission, which is paying no little attention to the trout fishing situation in the Wolverine state.

It will be recalled that Michigan has been making a survey of trout waters. All the streams and their branches have been charted and "runways" marked. Now the state commission has decided which streams may be fished and how. In some counties all the creeks and rivers are open to angling. In others only part of the flowing waters can be worked by the fly rod game. The complete list of open and restricted waters has just been announced by the conservation commission so that between now and May 1 the trout fans may check up to see whether their old fishing hole is open or closed during 1926.

What is known as the "four protection" plan is the portion of this bill giving the most concern to automobile dealers and prospective buyers. This provides a refund of the tax paid to the government on cars held as showroom stock. Thus, if the bill becomes a law on March 1, the tax refund will be effective on April 1 on all cars in dealer stock purchased prior to April 1.

Individual purchasers do not pay this sales tax to the government, and, therefore, the law does not provide a refund to them. The bill as it now reads is not retroactive, covering only cars actually in stock when the law becomes effective.

It is estimated that a 2 per cent reduction in tax will mean a refund of $7,500,000 on all un sold automobiles in the United States, or an average of between $5 and $10 a car. This is the approximate maximum the private purchaser could get in price reduction from the dealer in Chicago.

Thus, if the bill becomes a law on March 1, the tax refund will be effective on April 1 on all cars in dealer stock purchased prior to April 1.

Individual purchasers do not pay this sales tax to the government, and, therefore, the law does not provide a refund to them. The bill as it now reads is not retroactive, covering only cars actually in stock when the law becomes effective.

It is estimated that a 2 per cent reduction in tax will mean a refund of $7,500,000 on all un sold automobiles in the United States, or an average of between $5 and $10 a car. This is the approximate maximum the private purchaser could get in price reduction from the dealer in Chicago.

What is known as the "four protection" plan is the portion of this bill giving the most concern to automobile dealers and prospective buyers. This provides a refund of the tax paid to the government on cars held as showroom stock. Thus, if the bill becomes a law on March 1, the tax refund will be effective on April 1 on all cars in dealer stock purchased prior to April 1.

Democrats A
Suit Proce

BY ARTHUR SEARS
(Chicago Tribune Staff)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—The first battle in the struggle for control of the Democratic party, to be decided today in the Senate, is the nomination of a candidate for the presidency. As the first of a series of nominations to be brought before the Senate, the Democrats are charged with the task of selecting a candidate who will be able to defeat the Republicans in the coming year.

The fighting was led by Senator Walsh, after the Aluminums company, the secretary of the treasury, R. E. Mellon, and a monopoly which defies inquiry. It enjoys the support of the Senate, and the House, and of the people. The latter has elected a committee to investigate the matter, and the committee has already reported that the Aluminums company has violated a consent decree which forbids it from monopolizing the production of aluminum.

The Democrats are now in a position to intervene with a veto, but they are not doing so. They are waiting for the Republicans to make a move. The Republicans are now in a position to make a move, but they are not doing so. They are waiting for the Democrats to make a move.

They also deny the right to intervene with a veto. They are waiting for the Republicans to make a move. The Republicans are now in a position to make a move, but they are not doing so. They are waiting for the Democrats to make a move.

Senator Cummings (D.) minority report from the committee, of which he is chairman, has pronounced the Walsh proposal unconstitutional and severely criticized the proposed constitution.

"It is the judgment of the committee," he said, "that there is no constitutional authority for the proposed constitution, and that, if it is passed, it will be a violation of the constitution."

The Senate, however, is not bound by the committee's report. It can pass the constitution if it wishes. The Senate is now in a position to pass the constitution, but it is not doing so. It is waiting for the House to make a move.
